FROM THE PODIUM

Welcome, and thank you for joining us today. This program brings together music of determination and renewal, wit and whimsy, and the distinctive sounds of swing and rock. It is a wonderful display of each PCB member's breadth and expressiveness. We have enjoyed preparing these works and look forward to sharing their warmth, humor, and excitement with you.

I am especially pleased to welcome our guest clarinetist, my friend and former colleague, Jeffrey O'Flynn. Having worked alongside Jeffrey for years, I have a deep appreciation for the artistry, thoughtfulness, and generosity he brings to making music. His featured pieces offer very different settings for his remarkable playing, and it is a particular pleasure to share the stage with him once again.

My gratitude to Jeffrey extends beyond today's performance. His meaningful interaction with Plano ISD music students tomorrow is an important part of his visit and reflects the commitment and support that PCB maintains through its' Music 4 Life mission and outreach. The opportunity to learn directly from a musician of Jeff's caliber can help young people hear new possibilities in their own playing and approach their musical growth with greater confidence. Thank you, Jeffrey, for sharing your time, your insight, and your artistry so generously with our students, our band, and our community.

I am grateful to the members of the Plano Community Band for the dedication and enthusiasm they bring to every rehearsal and performance. Their commitment makes concerts like this possible, and your presence gives our work its purpose. Thank you for supporting live music in Plano and for making room in your day to listen, enjoy, and be part of this musical community.
